

Policy 4005

Display of Ideological and Political Symbols

To maintain a focused and productive educational environment, this policy regulates the display of ideological and political symbols by employees with the School District's curriculum and classroom displays.

Only materials directly related to the educational program may be displayed as part of the curriculum. Employees shall not display ideological or political materials as part of the educational program, unless they are relevant to the subject matter and presented in a balanced manner.

This policy also applies to other areas of school buildings where curricular activities occur. This policy will not be interpreted in a manner that violates law.
